

SUMMARY

Senior Product Designer (UX/UI) with 15+ years leading end-to-end design within Agile delivery teams, across logistics, travel, retail, and media platforms including Shippit, SiteMinder, THE ICONIC, and News Corp. Skilled in user research, design systems, and cross-functional collaboration with product managers, engineers, and business stakeholders to turn user insights into accessible, on-brand design solutions. Builds accessibility (WCAG-aligned) into the design process from research through to high-fidelity UI, ensuring products are usable by the widest possible range of people. Integrates AI-powered tools (Figma, Claude, Cursor) across the design lifecycle to speed up discovery and tighten design-to-dev handoff, with a consistent focus on measurable user and business impact.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

- 15+ years leading UX/UI design within Agile delivery teams across logistics, travel, retail, media, and health-tech platforms.
- Extensive cross-functional collaboration with Product Managers, Engineers, business SMEs, and executive stakeholders to translate user research into design solutions.
- Design system ownership and governance, ensuring consistent, on-brand experiences across web and mobile products.

Shippit - Senior UX/UI Designer

Sep 2024 - Apr 2026

Shippit is an Australian shipping and delivery management platform used by retailers to manage multi-carrier logistics.

Key Responsibilities

- Own end-to-end UX/UI design for the logistics platform within an Agile delivery squad, partnering with Product Managers and Engineers.
- Maintain and govern the design system, and QA front-end implementation against it.

Key Achievements

- Embedded an AI-augmented workflow (Claude for research synthesis, Figma for design system governance, Cursor for design-to-code handoff), improving design-to-dev consistency.
- Freed developers to focus on feature logic by actively QA-ing front-end output against the design system, helping the cross-functional squad ship with confidence.
- Applied WCAG-aligned accessibility standards across UI design and QA, ensuring the platform remained usable and compliant for all users.

4Mation - Senior UX/UI Designer

Mar 2024 – Sep 2024

4mation is a Sydney-based digital agency. Engaged on a client project for FIS, a global financial technology company delivering wealth management solutions to financial institutions worldwide.

Key Responsibilities

- Implemented and extended the design system for FIS's wealth management platform as part of a client engagement delivered through 4mation.

Key Achievements

- Delivered end-to-end UX/UI design across the wealth management design system, from research through implementation, collaborating with cross-functional client and delivery teams.
- Ensured user-friendly, visually consistent outcomes aligned to FIS's design system standards using Agile, iterative delivery.
