

SUMMARY

I'm a seasoned Product Designer working at the intersection of strategy, design, and technology — where human-centred thinking meets AI-enabled execution.

Great design transforms how people interact with technology, shapes brand perception, and drives measurable outcomes for both users and businesses. What defines my practice is how I get there — integrating AI-powered tools across the entire design lifecycle, from research synthesis and ideation through to design system governance and front-end quality assurance.

IDEAS, DATA, AI, USER CENTRIC DESIGN

My workflow spans Figma, Claude, and Cursor. Not to replace creative thinking, but to compress the low-value work so teams can focus on what actually moves the needle — faster discovery cycles, tighter design-to-dev handoffs, and a design function that actively QAs front-end output against the design system, freeing developers to focus on feature logic rather than implementation detail.

I'm motivated by learning, mentoring, and building cross-functional capability — bridging design, development, business, and users through data insights, AI-driven tools, and a consistent bias toward impact.

Throughout my career I've helped deliver transformative digital experiences for some of Australia's most recognised brands — Foxtel, SBS, Vodafone, Woolworths, News Corp, Ticketek, Service NSW, GrainCorp and THE ICONIC — with one consistent goal: meaningful work that creates lasting value for users, businesses, and society.

Shippit

Sep 2024 - Current

SENIOR UXD

As a Senior UX/UI Designer at Shippit, I collaborate with Product Managers and Engineers to deliver user-centred logistics solutions across the full design lifecycle — from research synthesis and ideation through to high-fidelity prototyping and front-end quality assurance. I integrate AI-powered tools throughout, using Claude to accelerate research synthesis, Figma to govern the design system, and Cursor to bridge design intent to front-end implementation — actively QA-ing output against the design system so developers stay focused on feature logic and the squad ships with confidence and consistency.

4mation

Mar 2024 - Sep 2024

SENIOR UXD

As a UX/UI designer, I played a key role in crafting intuitive and engaging user experiences for various clients. I was involved in the entire design process, from research to implementation, ensuring digital products were user-friendly and visually appealing.

HELLO MOLLY

Jun 2023 - Dec 2023

CONTRACTOR OF UXD

Six months contract focused on improving the UX using data strategically to help the business understand shopping behaviour in order to enhance the suite of products empowering users to a high engagement and improving spending in the platform.

OOVVUU

Jul 2021 - Jun 2023

LEAD OF UXD

Working strategically in collaboration with the tech and executive teams to improve the Oovvuu platform to empower publishers and journalists to enhance engagement of their articles by adding curated videos and exposing users to sponsored advertisements, generating revenue for both parties.

SITEMINDER

Feb 2021 - Jul 2021

LEAD UXD

I led a team of designers in cross-functional teams, each focused on unique user touchpoints across both customer-facing and internal products. Our goal was to improve user experience by using data to enhance understanding of the travel industry and consumer behavior, ultimately providing hoteliers and guests with a seamless experience.

PANTHERA PROPERTY GROUP

Sep 2020 - Feb 2021

LEAD OF UXD

Designed a platform for Food & Beverage and CPG sectors, enabling shoppers and merchants across regional NSW shopping centres to trade online during COVID-19 — featuring multi-merchant checkout, fulfilment hubs, and booking services.

ROCKMELON

May 2018 - Jul 2020

HEAD OF UXD

I designed, managed and helped build a platform to empower parents and therapists of children with autism spectrum and learning disabilities. A suite of apps designed to help centralise communications, task management and learning blocks. User research and interviews were used strategically to build the platform.

THE ICONIC

Mar 2016 - Jun 2018

HEAD OF UXD

I managed a team of designers, placed into cross-functional teams. Each designer was responsible for unique end-user touch points throughout the platform. The team focused on improving the UX using data strategically to help the business understand shopping behaviour in order to enhance the suite of products empowering users to a high engagement and improving spending in the platform. I was also responsible for curating and advocating the UXD methodologies and patterns for fast design and implementation.

SKYFII

Jul 2015 - May 2016

LEAD UXD

I was responsible for delivering a leading analytics platform to help businesses gather better intelligence about their business and users. Design the brand identity and define the user experience for the Skyfii analytics platform. I created, defined and collaborated with development teams and clients across different bricks and mortar retailers.

NEWS CORP
